

COWETA COUNTY GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

MEMBERSHIP AND DUES:

Membership is offered to all who are dedicated to preserving historical and genealogical records and to anyone interested in researching their history. Members' interest is not restricted to Coweta County history and ancestry. Our research is varied and covers all locales.

Members receive four (4) issues of "THE COWETA COURIER" published Fall, Winter, Spring and Summer during the current membership year.

Contents of our magazine include church and courthouse records, family and Bible records, pedigree charts, newspaper abstracts, miscellaneous genealogical information and unlimited queries. Coweta and Campbell Counties are the primary focus but information on other areas included when space permits.

Members also receive assistance and guidance in the principles of genealogical research. A nominal fee is charged for research requested by mail. We also have publications for sale.

COWETA COUNTY GENEALOGICAL AND HISTORICAL RESEARCH CENTER/LIBRARY

Located in the Old Train Depot in Historic Downtown Grantville, Georgia, which is just off of I-85 South (exit #35) and U.S. Highway 29 South. Follow the signs to Grantville and you will run straight into us! The CCGS and the library is staffed solely by volunteers. We welcome members to become volunteers.

 * HOURS OPEN TO THE PUBLIC * ***

Every Tuesday, Wednesday & 1st and 3rd
Saturdays of Each Month-10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Or

By appointment; email- info@ccgsinc.org

Closed Monday, Friday & Sunday. Closed during inclement weather & Christmas Holidays.

Research materials housed at the Center/Library include genealogical and historical data on an international, national, regional, state and county scope. We also have a Surname Register which we ask visitors to sign, and we add the information from our correspondence files (includes names, dates, area of research). This enables us to connect researchers shaking the same tree (COUSINS!!!). We have a Surname File which has Pedigree Charts, Family Group Sheets and other misc. info from researchers and various sources, and we have a large collection of local family history books.

Contributions and donations are accepted in support of the Research Center/Library. The collection grows only through donations and a portion of membership dues. Donations are tax deductible.

You are invited to visit the Research Center/Library when in our area. Please do not forget to sign our register.
